DREW PEARSON

TREASURY'S COMPLEX TAX PROBLEMS

(Ed. Note—In Drew Pearson's absence, Fred M. Vinson, secretary of the treasury, contributes a guest column on one of the most important problems of the treasury—tax evasion.)

Drew Pearson has offered me his Washington Merry-Go-Round column to present any subject of interest to the treasury department and to the American people. I know of no subject of more immediate concern than the treasury's campaign against tax evasion.

Here, in a nutshell, is the situation the treasury faces:

In 1940 there were 4,999,999 individual taxpayers. Today there are more than 50,000,000. In an effort to handle the vastly increased task of processing returns and collecting taxes the personnel of the bureau of internal revenue was increased from about 22,000 to about 50,000.

Fred Vinson

With the manpower shortage the bureau could not expect to increase its forces proportionately with the number of taxpayers. And in many respects bureau employees found their work increased out of proportion to the number of returns. Under the withholding program, a large part of the work formerly done by the taxpayer is now done in the bureau. The processing of wartime tax relief provisions also threw much additional work upon the bureau. Under these conditions the normal investigative work of the bureau inevitably suffered.

The bureau has always proceeded upon the theory that the average American is honest, and that a small but efficient force could deal with the dishonest.

But millions of us are now taxpayers and the honest must be protected against those among us who, tempted by war-swollen incomes and shortages in civilian goods and services, would cheat the rest of us. No city, however small, can afford to be without a police force. And no city, which has experienced a population increase of more than tenfold in a five-year period, would think of trying to get along without enlarging its law enforcement groups.

That is why the treasury is building up its investigative forces. Our object is to recruit and train 5,000 men.

This will be no Gestapo. It will be a taxpayers' law enforcement group protecting the government's interest in taxes, and at the same time protecting the honest taxpayer against the black market operator, the racketeer and every other kind of tax evader. And it will be good business, too. We expect to collect $20 for every one spent.

When taxes are evaded the honest taxpayer loses, since every dollar evaded increases by that much the burden borne by other taxpayers. In many cases, the honest taxpayer has especial reason to welcome the tax-evasion campaign. A reputable furrier or jeweler, for instance, could not continue in business if a next-door competitor should be permitted to sell furs or jewelry without collecting excise taxes. Any business firm which cheats the government by failing to pay for the services which government provides is engaged in dishonest competition, just as much as if it cheated the landlord out of his rent or workers out of their pay. Taxes are high, but they must be collected fairly. And so long as any substantial portion of the taxes due remains uncollected, it operates to defer the reduction of tax rates.

Much more than expedience directs this tax-evasion campaign. Fundamental morality is involved. The man who evades taxes picks his neighbor's pocket. And in these times, when we are asking so much from the men in uniform, any pocket picking at their expense becomes unthinkable. As President Truman has said:

"We are not fighting this war to make millionaires, and certainly we are not going to allow the black-market operators or any other racketeers to be in a favored class, when the men in the armed forces, and our citizens generally, are sacrificing so heavily."

My readers may say, "All right. Tax evasion is indefensible. How bad is it? What are you doing about it?"

The answers to the two questions go together. The treasury is gathering, from many sources, information that will give the entire picture of tax evasion. That same information will serve as evidence to bring tax evaders to justice. The treasury is enlarging its investigating forces, as I have noted, to handle a tremendous backlog of fraud cases, accumulated during recent years and the cases now piling in.

Campbell Loses Distinguished Resident

Funeral services were held yesterday for George C. Payne, Campbell pioneer and famed walnut grower, who died in his sleep at the family home, Route 2, Box 278, Payne Avenue, on Monday, September 3rd. The rites were conducted at 2:00 p. m. from the Roger Darling Garden Chapel and the entombment followed at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Honorary pallbearers were Arthur W. Hall, Roy A. Bronson, LeRoy Anderson, J. E. Wiesendanger, Dr. I. Frazer, Harry T. Pyle, M. J. Kochman, Joseph McKinnon, Roy Smith, Dr. George Wisner, E. W. Bucknall, Stanley Smith, Arthur Christie, Lee O. Braucher, and Mayor James R. Bacigalupi and Judge Charles A. Thompson, the latter two of Santa Clara. Directors of the Santa Clara Walnut Growers Association served as active pallbearers. They included Arch Wilson, D. W. Luther, John Hain, W. W. Curtner, Clyde Stocking and J. A. Conner.

Payne was born on Shannon Road November 28, 1874 and he and his brothers and sisters have operated a 100-acre ranch on Payne Avenue, named in honor of the family.

His grandfather came to this country from England while still a boy and his father, James F. Payne, migrated to the West Coast from New York, also at an early age, arriving here in 1852. He engaged in mining and farming in Tuolumne County and Santa Clara County, finally settling at Campbell and marrying Phoebe McClellan of Missouri who had crossed the plains when a small child.

George Payne was always a devoted student of horticulture and in connection with it spent a year with Luther Burbank on his ranch at Santa Rosa and later studied the walnut industry in Valparaiso, Chile, for nearly a year. He was the first man to successfully graft walnuts commercially and his system is now being taught at the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, Oregon. Another of his achievements along this line was to grow what is believed to be the largest walnut tree in the world which stands on the Payne place.

New Publisher Takes Over Campbell Press

Mr. and Mrs. G. Martin Allen Jr., of Portland, Ore., have arrived in Campbell to take over the management of the Campbell Press from Mrs. Edna Smith who is retiring.

Mr. Allen has been in the printing business in Portland for the past fourteen years and, during that time, took an active part in the Portland Advertising Federation activities, served for many years as a Scout Master with the Boy Scouts of America and was instrumental in furthering the Boy Scout Cub program. His hobby for many years has been the building of scale model railroads.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Allen attended the University of Oregon, at Eugene, Oregon, where Mrs. Allen was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta and Mr. Allen with Phi Sigma Kappa and also Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising honorary.

The Allens have one small daughter, Denison Page, who, with her parents, will live in Campbell at 236 North Central Avenue, the former Congregational Manse.

Parent Teacher Study Group Meets

The women of Campbell who are attending the studies on food sponsored by the Campbell High Parent Teachers' Association met on August 21st at 10:00 a. m. in the First Methodist Church to learn the art of making cheese by the latest improved methods as demonstrated by Mrs. Winifred Jacker of the Extension Department. American, Neufchatel and Cottage Cheese were made and the by-product, whey, discussed. A grab luncheon followed the lesson.

This group will sponsor another food study on "Tomatoes and their Various Uses" on Tuesday, September 18th from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 at the First Methodist Church. All women in the community are cordially invited to attend these demonstrations and anyone desiring further information may call Mrs. Henry Jensen, Campbell 3376.

Campbell women are also invited to attend a demonstration on pickles and relishes at the WillowGlen First Methodist Church on September 12th from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Sgt. Glenn Parker of Kelso, Washington, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knappen and family of 63 Everett Street. The Sergeant, seeking friends here, was assisted by the Knappens. A coincidence developing from the chance acquaintanceship is the fact that Parker's home is just one block from the home of Mrs. Knappen's father, George L. Forrest, also of Kelso.

Executives Plan Scout Activities

A group of Pack 9 Cub Scout den mothers, executive committeemen and Cub Leader Ed Dalzell met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Enderton on Alice Avenue Thursday evening to plan activities for the coming season. Present also was Robert Carlson, the new minister of the Congregational Church, under the sponsorship of which the dens will operate. Rev. Carlson will act in an advisory capacity, lending such assistance when and where needed in establishing new dens and outlining schedules for present ones.

With the reopening of school, dens will again take up their weekly schedule of meetings with the den mothers. No pack meeting is planned for September as too little time is allowed for a good program. However, October 26 has been set for the presentation of the charter, Hallowe'en party and general get-together. Dr. W. R. Morgan, committee chairman on organization is scheduled to make the presentation and start the group off on their yearly program.

November 30 has been set for the Father-Son banquet, which will be a potluck affair. Assistant Executive W. F. Olsen of San Jose will be asked to speak and local leaders will be introduced. All fathers are urged to set aside this date to make the affair the success last year's party proved to be.

December will be occupied with too many other activities to allow a program for cubbing, so January 11 was selected as Visitors' Night. At this time all dens, their mothers and committeemen will be invited to join with the Congregational Church units. Displays of handiwork will feature the evening.

Those attending Thursday's meeting were Ed Dalzell, Cub Leader, Mrs. Dalzell, John and Arthur Franzen, Mrs. Mary Enderton, Rev. Robert Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ribble, Mrs. Dean Swift, "Dobie" Jeffers, Blanche Gilpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rusch of San Francisco enjoyed the holiday weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rusch, and brother Bert Rusch of North Union avenue. George is maintenance machinist with the Pelton Water Wheel works in San Francisco, a division of the Baldwin Locomotive works. He enjoyed a brief deer-hunt here without much luck.

Recently inducted into the army by Board 113 Los Gatos, were Leland L. Jones of Campbell and Billy Tefertelller of Orange Cove, formerly of Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Duncan and sons left last Thursday for a vacation at Lake Tahoe, planning to return to morrow.

Community and War Chest Drive Gets Under Way

Herbert M. Shadle, Chairman of the Campbell Community Council, announces that the month of October will be set aside for the 1945 Community Chest and War Fund Drive.

This will be the last National War Fund Campaign. The national goal is $115,000,000.00; added to that will be great local community needs. The Campbell Community Council has accepted $3250.00 as our victory quota and is asking for $3500.00 to be used for the Library, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, local relief needs and general youth activities. The total amount to be raised is $6750.00, a slight increase over last year.

Shadle says: "The war is ended but not the need for these funds. The home front agencies are faced with heavier responsibilities and are asking for more funds. We should give thanks for victory—it could have been different. We can express our gratitude by generous giving in the spirit of thanksgiving. Remember the slogan, 'Be generous in Victory.'"

Mrs. D. Chamberlin Receives Husband's Citation

Mrs. Dean Chamberlin has received from her husband the following citation which was presented to him with the bronze star medal:

"Headquarters XI United States Army—First Lieutenant Dean R. Chamberlin, Air Corps, United States Army. For meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy at Luzon, Philippine Islands, from 5 April 1945 to 3 May 1945. As Support Air Party Officer for the Baldy Force, during the period for preparatory bombing of the Ipo Area, Lieutenant Chamberlin established and energetically supervised a system of coordinating close air support missions in support of two regiments operating over an active front of 20,000 yards. He directed 1500 air sorties, carrying in excess of 1000 tons of bombs and 12,000 gallons of Napalin into enemy installations and through his technical knowledge of communications and air support rendered invaluable assistance in the selection of suitable targets. In directing the aircraft into the target areas, he was often exposed to enemy fire. By his cheerful cooperation and aggressive attitude, Lieut. Chamberlin effected excellent ground-air coordination, which contributed materially to the success of the operation.

The Campbell Press has a new publisher and a new editor—a publisher and an editor filled with the aspirations, coupled with the trepidations, common to the beginning of any new undertaking. We are deeply grateful to Mrs. Edna F. Smith, the former publisher and editor, for her cooperation and good wishes. Her assistance has been invaluable and we know that the readers will miss her.

The new owners like Campbell; in fact, chose it because of this liking. The progressive spirit evidenced here is the inspiration for the paper's new slogan, "A Growing Newspaper in a Growing Community" and it is our earnest desire that the two will help each other in this growth.

We hope that this paper will give to its readers an accurate reflection of the life of Campbell and that it may also serve as a sounding board for our readers' opinion on the civic welfare of the community. We invite your suggestions and will welcome signed letters for publication.

Windbigler-Hodges Nuptials Sunday Afternoon

Against an altar background of white and pink blossoms a simple ceremony Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock united in marriage two popular young people, (Mrs.) Irene Windbigler and Eugene Hodges. The scene of this happy event was the home of the groom's father, Z. Hodges, at 110 Del Patio in Campbell.

The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Lucy Stadmiller; the matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Gray, whose husband was the groom's best man. The Rev. Robert Carlson of the Campbell Congregational church read the marriage vows. Relatives and close friends witnessed the ceremony.

Following the nuptials was a reception, arranged by the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Fanning. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake centered the buffet luncheon table, and a lovely cut-glass bowl of punch was presided over by Mrs. Fanning.

Besides the wedding guests among whom were included Mr. and Mrs. Fanning, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green, Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Abbett, Frank Fanning and daughter Dorothy, and Will Hodges, present at the reception were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Shaw, Merle Shaves, E. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

In Christian Science churches the Lesson-Sermon subject on September 9 is "Man," with the Golden Text from Psalms: "Hear the right, O Lord, attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips . . . As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness" (17:1,15).

One of the Bible citations in the sermon is Corinthians 3:18: "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory even as by the Spirit of the Lord." A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook will also be included (p. 258).

Clubmen Hear Talk On Japanese Psychology

The Campbell Kiwanis Club met for its regular weekly luncheon on Tuesday, September 4th, at the Library. The Chairman for the day was Bud Levenberg who introduced the speaker, Russ Lambert. His subject was "Japanese Psychology" and included a discussion of the Japanese peoples' attitudes toward religion and politics.

Mr. Lambert stressed the fact that his opinions were formed from a study of the Japanese language and explained Japanese tortures to the club. He also discussed what we can expect from Japan in the way of cooperation.

A visitor at the luncheon was Bill Gilmore of the Los Gatos Kiwanis Club.

Next week at the regular luncheon Lieutenant Commander George Lofink will speak on "Surplus War Property Disbursements." Jack Murdock will be chairman for the meeting.

Allen Ranch Sold To S. S. Ridgely

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Ridgely of San Carlos have purchased the H. H. Allen ranch on Moor Avenue and are at home there with their son, John.

The Ridgelys have an elder son, Sgt. S. S. Ridgely, Jr. who is serving in the army air force and is now stationed at Truax Field, Madison, Wisconsin.

Scheduled to arrive among a group of twenty Santa Clara County service men at New York or Boston is Pfc. Peter J. Sparaco of Campbell. Five vessels are to arrive from overseas at an undisclosed date and army officials warn that their lists may be incorrect since they are compiled prior to embarkation.

Grange Plans Admission Day Program

Orchard City Grange will have an Admission Day program at its next meeting, Tuesday evening, September 11. Unusual features will be presented in charge of Mrs. Jessie McChesney.

Mervyn Keesling led the last meeting in the annual Peach Festival. He read a paper on experiences of his son, Reynold Keesling, in a German prison camp. The soldier gave much credit to the Red Cross and the YMCA for programs of good entertainment.

Among visitors were Col. Ryser, Al Christopher, Master of Pomona Grange; Mrs. Effie Spencer, County Chairman of Home Economics; Roscoe Murray, of Mt. Hamilton Grange; Mrs. Christian Ainsworth and several members of other granges. Among prominent grange officials present was Harry Barnes, State Executive Committeeman.

The banquet included frozen peaches raised by Keesling.

Our sincere thanks to all of you who helped

When Japan bombed Pearl Harbor, Southern Pacific became perhaps the most strategic railroad in the United States. Serving the West Coast ports of embarkation from San Diego to Portland, and more military and naval establishments than any other railroad, we were called upon to handle an enormous load.

We were able to handle this load successfully because of the great work of railroad men and women up and down the line, and with the help and cooperation of thousands of people not actually working for the railroad.

Now the war is over. The job is done. But we of Southern Pacific will never forget the way people stood by us when the task sometimes seemed bigger than our railroad.

We send our sincere thanks—— to the Army, Navy and Government authorities for their sympathetic understanding of our problems.

— to the shippers who cheerfully put up with delays so that more vital war freight could go through on time, and who cooperated in many ways to conserve equipment.

— to our passengers, for their good-natured acceptance of crowded trains and other wartime discomforts.

— to the thousands of people who stayed off the trains to make room for service men and other essential travelers.

— to the press and radio which understood our operating difficulties and kept the public informed.

We do not know how quickly Southern Pacific can convert from war to peace. Soon transports will be landing thousands of war-weary men at West Coast ports, and many more must be brought back from Europe. These men will want to get home as quickly as possible. We intend to do our best to carry them in the comfort to which they are entitled. This job comes first, of course.

Meanwhile, we are planning luxurious new streamlined trains, new travel comforts and refinements in passenger service, and improvements in freight service. We intend to go forward aggressively with the West, earning our right to serve you solely on merit and performance.

A. T. MERCIER, President

Roost Team Wins Game

One of the important events on the calendar of the Youth Council last week was the basketball game held at the University of Santa Clara gym in which the Roost team defeated the Santa Clara Wutzits 23-22.

High point man of the game was Ray Vierra of the Wutzit team with 10 credits. Livingston and Gregory of Campbell were top men of their side with six each.

Mrs. L. C. Shank Jr. (Maryetta Mathews) Saturday returned to her home on South Fifth Street in San Jose with her infant son Terry. Mr. and Mrs. Shank became parents on August 22, at O'Connor's Sanitarium. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Shank Sr., formerly of Latimer Ave., Campbell, now live in Saratoga. The baby's uncles and aunts are SP(Y)3/c George and Mrs. Poor (Mary Shank) of Boston who have spent considerable time with her parents since a year after Pearl Harbor, and T/S and Mrs. Geo. (Bud) Shank, Army Air Corps, Santa Ana, California. Terry's dad was a merchant mariner and a producer of vital supplies during the late unpleasantness, and is now employed by the Food Machinery Corporation of San Jose.

Ernest Kerr and son Paul called on the R. H. Knappen family last week. Mr. Kerr, who, with his family, lived on North Union Avenue several years ago, is currently from Tucson, Arizona. He and Mrs. Kerr are visiting Paul and his wife (the former Miriam Byrne of Santa Cruz) and their two charming children, Janet and David, at their home in Woodside. Paul, as many Campbell people will remember, learned the printing trade at the Campbell Press, and is now foreman of a San Carlos paper.

A public reception will be held Sunday afternoon, September 9th from 5 to 8 in the parlors of the Campbell Congregational Church, in honor of the Rev. Robert Carlson, who has just accepted the pastorate of the church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrow of Oakland spent the holiday week end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Burrow of San Tomas Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cowdery of North Second Street, Campbell.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. A. C. Keesling on Hamilton Avenue were her son, Lt. (jg) James R. Foster, USN, and his wife. Lieutenant Foster returned to the United States in June from Recife, Brazil, where he had been for two years with the 4th Fleet under Admiral Jonas Ingram.

Light Up for Youthful Seeing

Did you fall asleep last night, halfway through your reading? Did the print seem to disappear right through the paper? Do not blame it all on the hard day you had at work or that you think you may be getting old. The chances are that the lighting was to blame!

This is a good time of the year to check on the lighting in your home. Get rid of blackened bulbs, root out and replace the small-sized bulbs that have been put into the lamps you read and work by. And when there are students doing homework at night, make certain they have the best of study light for concentrated eye work. Good light for study is so vital because—one of every FIVE children in grade schools suffers from impaired vision and TWO out of every FIVE college graduates have defective sight. Light up for youthful seeing as fall days darken into winter.
